The Vinyes siblings to defend Amàlia's leadership in Alcanyís.

Amàlia Vinyes-Joan Vinyes will share the wheel of the Seat Leon (number 13) prepared by Baporo Motorsport, on the MotorLand track (Alcanyís). Their goal will be to defend Amàlia's first position in the provisional classifications of Class 1 and D4 category of the Endurance Spanish Cup (CER 2011). This race brings to its mid-point a very disputed championship, with minimal differences among the fastest drivers of each category.

After the three initial events, Amàlia remains top of both classifications, despite being closely followed. Here is what the Andorran driver had to say: I think we've managed a very consistent first half. We've won a race in each circuit and the only place we didn't get points was in Jarama. At the moment, however, Carol-Sicart are really close behind; a difference of one point forces us to keep focussed. In regards to the Alcanyis event, Joan thinks they should continue with the strategy that has worked best for the team. His opinion was as follows: Obviously, we won't be able to make any decisions before the timed sessions. However, in the first race we will be penalised by the handicap of Amàlia's win in Albacete, which will make it difficult to fight for the victory. Anyway, we need to see how the races go, some situations might arise that could change the original plan.

This weekend (2nd and 3rd July) brings some novelties to the usual CER schedules. On Saturday 2nd, a lot will be happening. The 50' free practice sessions will start at 9am and 12:20pm respectively. Between 2:40pm and 4:25pm each driver will race in one of the two timed practice sessions. Finally, the big novelty will take place at 6:50pm, still on Saturday, when the first race of the event will kick off.

For the next day, there will be only one race left, which will start at 9:55am. Both races, as usual, will last 48' plus one lap.
